

Ajax Imperium Press: Studies in Reaction

The Ajax Imperium Press, founded in 2006 by the writer and editor Jonathan Bowden, is a publishing house dedicated to promoting reactionary and traditionalist thought. The press has published a wide range of books, from academic studies to political manifestos, on a variety of topics, including history, philosophy, literature, and art.

This book is an in-depth exploration of the Ajax Imperium Press. It examines the press's history, its key figures, and its impact on the intellectual and political landscape.

The Ajax Imperium Press was founded in response to what Bowden saw as a decline in traditional values and culture in the West. Bowden believed that the modern world was in a state of crisis, and that the only way to avert disaster was to return to the traditional values of the past.

The press's first book, The Crisis of Western Civilization, was published in 2006. The book was a collection of essays by Bowden and other writers, which argued that the West was in a state of decline due to the loss of traditional values.

The press has since published a wide range of books on a variety of topics, including:

- History: The History of the Russian Empire, The History of the Third Reich
- Philosophy: Traditionalism and the Crisis of Modernity, The Conservative Mind
- Literature: The Collected Works of Julius Evola, The Collected Works of Ernst Jünger
- Art: The Art of the Third Reich, The Art of the Italian Renaissance

The Ajax Imperium Press has been associated with a number of key figures in the reactionary and traditionalist movement, including:

- Jonathan Bowden: The founder and editor of the press, Bowden is a writer, editor, and political activist. He is the author of a number of books, including The Crisis of Western Civilization and The Decline of the West.
- Julius Evola: An Italian philosopher, writer, and political activist, Evola was one of the most influential thinkers of the 20th century. He was a proponent of traditionalism and the rejection of modernity.

- Ernst Jünger: A German writer, philosopher, and soldier, Jünger was one of the most important figures of the 20th century. He was a supporter of traditionalism and the rejection of modernism.
- Alain de Benoist: A French philosopher and political activist, Benoist is one of the leading figures of the Nouvelle Droite (New Right). He is the author of a number of books, including The Problem of Democracy and The Decline of the West.

The Ajax Imperium Press has had a significant impact on the intellectual and political landscape. The press's books have been widely read and debated, and have helped to shape the thinking of a new generation of reactionaries and traditionalists.

The press has also been influential in the development of the alt-right movement. The alt-right is a loose-knit group of white nationalists, white supremacists, and anti-Semites. The alt-right has adopted many of the ideas of the Ajax Imperium Press, and its members have been known to attend press events.
